

Sikloon Dineo kelder ons Mosambiek wegbreek 19 – 28 Mei 2017

Die oord waarheen ons sou gaan in die wintervakansie, het erg deurgeloop onder die sikloon. Die mense is kliphard besig om die nodige herstelwerk te doen, maar daar is nou 'n tekort aan sekere boumateriaal - almal moet nou herstelwerk doen.

Dit is nie vir die mense moontlik om aan ons die versekering van voltooiing te gee nie. Ons moes toe noodgedwonge die bespreking gekanselleer.

Cyclone Dineo affected much of Mozambique and Zimbabwe, flooding much of both countries and leaving over 100 000 homeless.

Cyclone Dineo aftermath: cleanup begins in Mozambique, Zimbabwe

In total, at least seven people died as the result of the storm, with over 100 000 people affected in Mozambique alone. At least 20 houses have been damaged in South Africa. But numbers alone can't reflect the true damage of a natural disaster.

Praia Do Toto in Mozambique's tourist city Inhambane felt the brunt of the storm, with structural damage caused by stiff winds. The South African Weather Service predicted the eye of Dineo to pass directly over Inhambane.
